Las Flores and Mamasté, a beautiful partnership

One month into our new location at Las Flores Community Center Classroom and we are excited to have found the perfect fit for our young babies and moms (and moms-tobe). Napa Parks and Rec have been extremely generous with their facility. As we plan for the future, we hope to entice more expecting moms to find their mom tribe and prepare for parenting their new little one. We will be bringing in community experts on child development and related expertise to meetings monthly to discuss important topics facing our moms including:

Community Highlight

- · establishing good sleep habits
- · understanding feeding schedules
- · learning baby talk
- · interviewing for childcare
- the art and science of self-care recognizing when it's beyond the baby blues
- · building support system
- · organizing tips for motherhood
- nutrition 101 for healthy moms
- milestones
- parenting styles
- · emergency care and prevention
- WWGD? (What would grandma do?)
